

Appln No. N/A
Amdt date June 7, 2006

Amendments to the Abstract:

On page 10, please delete the Abstract and replace it with the following:

A motion picture camera is provided having a film magazine inside of which a film supply reel, from which a motion picture film to be exposed having a supporting layer and a light-sensitive emulsion layer is unwound and moved over a film conveying path past a picture window for picture exposure[[,]] and a film winding reel are placed, onto which the exposed motion picture film is wound. A device, which serves to remove foreign bodies located on one or both surfaces of the motion picture film, is placed in the film conveying path between the film supply reel inside the film magazine and the picture window.

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A motion picture camera is provided having a film magazine inside of which a film supply reel, from which a motion picture film to be exposed having a supporting layer
5 and a light-sensitive emulsion layer is unwound and moved over a film conveying path past a picture window for picture exposure and a film winding reel are placed, onto which the exposed motion picture film is wound. A device, which serves to remove foreign bodies located on one or both surfaces of 10 the motion picture film, is placed in the film conveying path between the film supply reel inside the film magazine and the picture window.

Appln No. N/A
Amdt date June 7, 2006

Amendments to the Abstract:

On page 10, please delete the Abstract and replace it with the following:

A motion picture camera is provided having a film magazine inside of which a film supply reel, from which a motion picture film to be exposed having a supporting layer and a light-sensitive emulsion layer is unwound and moved over a film conveying path past a picture window for picture exposure[[,]] and a film winding reel are placed, onto which the exposed motion picture film is wound. A device, which serves to remove foreign bodies located on one or both surfaces of the motion picture film, is placed in the film conveying path between the film supply reel inside the film magazine and the picture window.

Enclosed following page 9 is a replacement Abstract.